

Decorative Driftwood and Stone

Saturday, 25 April 2009

Last Updated Tuesday, 28 April 2009

Out of Africa

We have gained exclusive access to rare and beautiful gems of nature found only in the harsh desert lands of Africa and in the deep jungles of the Congo.

We now stock a full range of Decorative Wood and Stone which is perfect for your aquarium, terrarium or reptile tank. Mopani and Dreamwood are regarded as the most sought-after driftwoods in the world.

From the Himba Tribe Highlands, 500 million year old rocks with exquisite colours and shapes, including the rare and hauntingly beautiful "Pagoda Namibia";

Namibian desert sand with its rich and grainy texture leaves no powder and is without doubt the finest terrarium sand in the world. Mopani and Dreamwood Designer Driftwood

These beautiful pieces are only found in the harsh desert lands of Africa and in the deep jungles of the Congo and are regarded as the most sought-after driftwoods in the world. They make an eye catching feature of your aquarium and also work to provide tannins which deter parasites and disease and naturally lower the pH of the water and which is required for a Discus aquarium.

Rock and Stone

We stock a range of beautiful rock and stone which come from the Himba Tribe Highlands, 500 million year old rocks with exquisite colours and shapes, including the rare and hauntingly beautiful "Pagoda Namibia";